Release Guidelines for Artists
Updated: July 2014

§1 Your Content
› Think about what people could use as their ringtone (jokes, jingles, jams etc).
› Your ringtone is recommended to be: 1-29 seconds.
› To improve your ringtone quality think about adding a fadeout.
› Explicit content is ok but will be rejected if you take it too far.

§2 Your Cover
› Try to make your cover look professional - or let us do it for you.
› The cover should be of this size: 1600 x 1600px.
› Avoid web addresses or emails on your cover.

§3 Your Naming
› Put attention to a great title and artist name - something people might type in or already know.
› Keep it simple - don't make it too complicated to get your sound.
› Leave out trademarked words like "iPhone"
› Avoid descriptive language such as "Tone", "Text Tone", "Ringtone"
› Please do not use website addresses in your names

§4 Your Copyrights
› Be sure that you got the rights to distribute your sound. Or ask us.
› You should have the rights for your cover too.

§5 Be original and you don't need to worry about these guidelines

---Happy Snipselling---